

Future Next Waldorf, Maryland Summer Reading Program Field Trip

Blue Crabs Baseball Game August 2011

Future Next Students and Volunteers ended the 2011 Summer Reading Program with some fun on a nice summer's day enjoying a Blue Crabs baseball game. Immediately following the end to a great summer reading program which theme was "Share the Love of Reading" was a great hit and success among students and parents. We had 45 elementary and middle school students coming from various surrounding schools throughout Charles County, Maryland participate in program. Due to limited summer enrichment activities offered to students during the summer months our program quickly gained the attention of students and parents which resulted in student participation surpassing our expectations and gained popularity far and wide throughout the county. Once program reached its student max we had a wait list of about 28 additional students eager to be accepted into program. The field trip was a treat for students who came week after week to read, write and engage in positive social activities while making new friends. Our field trip was made possible by our Vice-President, Board of County Commissioners Mr. REUBEN B. COLLINS II. The game theme for that day was "Hawaiian Luau" which included a firework show immediately following the game!

The game was held in Waldorf, Maryland at the Regency Furniture Stadium, we attended this field trip on Friday August 12th 2011 and had 20 students and 6 adult volunteers participate. We had a blast at the Blue Crabs baseball game with our students and parents. See you all next summer for more fun as we continue to "Share the Love of Reading"
